

What is Telemiracle?

Telemiracle is a successful foundation. Telemiracle helps many with medical treatments and equipment. Funding helps them pay for what they can't afford. For example a stair lift and a motorized scooter are things they will pay for. They also volunteer to help many people in Saskatchewan. Kinsmen Telemiracle helps families with the funds to deal with their medical issues. This is why I think Telemiracle is a very important event in Saskatchewan.

How Many People Volunteer?

With Telemiracle, they have up to 800 volunteers to help with planning and to get ready for the production. From start to finish Telemiracle takes an army to keep rolling. Some volunteers start a year before the production date and some are used on the date... And everything in between.

Who started Telemiracle?

The guy who started it all was Peter Kilburn. He started it in 1977 and now it has become a bigger foundation than anyone could imagine. I think that this was one of the best foundations there is especially in Saskatchewan.

Susan Colbow's Role In Telemiracle.

Susan currently sits on the board of the Kinsmen Foundation board and gifts people money for medical equipment. She was the chair of telemiracle 49 and she is just on the Estevan Kinnettes who help out at the show now .
